

The A.Vogel Group's Vision and Mission Statement

«Nature was my best loved university.»

A handwritten signature in green ink that reads "A. Vogel".

We support people in maintaining or regaining their health by natural means.

Our range

We develop and produce herbal remedies (phytopharmaceuticals), food and food supplements made from fresh herbs and distribute them internationally. We provide comprehensive and reliable information on health issues.

Quality / Ecology

Our core competences lie in the natural, environmentally responsible cultivation and processing of fresh herbs. We pay special attention to ecological aspects. The quality of our products and health information convince customers and reflect the current state of knowledge.

Employees / Ethics

We continue Alfred Vogel's lifework with pleasure and high dedication. We agree on goals with our employees and encourage personal initiative. We systematically promote health and support both personal and professional development. We act with honesty and integrity.

Self-reliance

Being economically successful enables us to secure our independence and to continue developing our company.
